Scottsboro Municipal Elections

The following are results of Scottsboro Alabama municipal elections from 1869-present. It is unclear if an election was held every year as mandated in the incorporation papers. Scottsboro was incorporated in 1868 and again in 1869. The incorporation papers of 1868 call for an election to be held on the first Monday of November 1869 and annually thereafter, for the election of a mayor and four councilmen. The incorporation papers of 1869 call for an election to be held on the first Monday of February 1870 and the same day every year to follow. These newspapers were used to research and document elections from 1869-1936:

The Progressive Age (1887-1936)

Jackson County Sentinel (1929-Present)

The Alabama Herald (1872-1882)

The Jackson County Herald (1868-1869)

The Scottsboro Citizen (1878-1919)

The Scottsboro Industrial Herald (1869-1871)

For elections from 1940-2020, Scottsboro City Council meeting minute books were used for documentation. A special thanks to Scottsboro City Clerk Whitney Phillips for allowing the use of those minute books/records.

This is a list of Scottsboro mayors from 1869-1909 based on photos displayed at Scottsboro City Hall. (#) This research does indicate some elections in which the winning mayors name differs from those listed:

According to an article in The Progressive Age on December 15, 1961, the vote was held to determine if a one cent sales tax, proposed by the Scottsboro City Council, should be passed as a means of supplying more funds as requested by the Scottsboro Board of Education to eliminate a deficit of $50,000, accumulated over the past four years and keep the schools in the city operating for a full nine months. After proposing the sales tax, the City Council asked for an advisory election.
